Message of the week - Looking after your mental health during coronavirus (COVID-19) restrictions

The impacts of the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak, physical distancing and isolation can make us feel anxious, stressed and worried. Read about what you can do to look after your mental wellbeing and look out for those around you as we tackle these challenges together. More information and resources are available on the following websites:

If you need mental health support in your language, call TIS National on 131 450 or visit tisnational.gov.au (opens in a new tab) to get an interpreter. TIS National covers more than 100 languages and is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, for the cost of a local call.

Community

New exemptions introduced to Phase 4

Starting from Saturday, 24 October, the maximum capacity for a seated performance or seated entertainment that is ticketed and takes place in a seated entertainment space is 60 percent.

The key focus of the amendments to Phase 4 remains on physical distancing and the safety of the Western Australian community, particularly the elderly and other vulnerable groups. The WA Government recognises that the arts and culture industry has been significantly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and the application of the 2 square metre rule.

These changes affect certain venues with one or more seated entertainment spaces which contain fixed seating and were regularly used for seated performances or seated entertainment immediately before 15 March 2020 or immediately before 11.59pm on 23 October 2020. This exemption does not apply to events that are required to develop a COVID Event Plan.

Eligible venues include theatres, concert halls, music auditoriums/amphitheatres, cinemas, comedy lounges and performing arts centres.

Places of worship are not included in the list of eligible venues. These places are currently only restricted by the 2 square metre rule and have access to alternatives, including multiple services and streaming of services. WA continues to have the most generous restrictions in the country and will continue to review these restrictions as the situation changes.

For more information about changes to Phase 4, please read our Phase 4 exemption – Easing restrictions for seated performances- frequently asked questions.

Surge training in the regions

Public Health Operations is offering two opportunities for people working in health, allied health, local government, aged care, Aboriginal community-controlled services, environmental health, prisons and students (medical, nursing and allied health) to attend a one hour introduction to contact tracing using syphilis and COVID-19 as examples to illustrate the principles and practice of contact tracing. The session will be presented four times with face to face and video-conference options for each session:

Friday 13 Nov 2020, 7-8am, Kununurra Hospital Training room

Friday 13 Nov 2020, 2-3pm, Kununurra Hospital Durack room

Register before COB Tues 10 Nov 2020 by emailing your name, organisation, phone number and venue/VC preference to KPHU.Reception@health.wa.gov.au

Events Guidelines updated

The latest version of the Event Guidelines has been published online. This now contains extended information on COVID Safety Marshals (Section 5) and the minimum time required for a COVID Event Plan to be assessed by the DoH (Section 6).
